

Evaluated Products List

Managing risk through assured products

Come along to this free seminar to hear the latest developments and thinking in ICT security and evaluation assurance.

The seminar is presented by stratsec and will feature an overview of the role of evaluated products in supporting government information security; and from an industry perspective, representatives from companies with security products that have been certified or are in evaluation. There will be an opportunity to connect with the vendors directly and hear more on their respective products evaluated by the stratsec lab, over drinks and canapes.
